JOSEPH KNIGHT COMPANY, Boston, Mass., beg to announce to the trade, to librarians, and booklovers that they have in preparation, and will soon publish a new edition of

LADY JACKSON'S WORKS,

comprising the following volumes :

- OLD PARIS: Its Courts and Literary Salons. 2 vols.
- THE OLD REGIME: Court, Salons, and Theatres. 2 vols.
- LAST OF THE VALOIS. 2 vols.
- FIRST OF THE BOURBONS. 2 vols.
- REIGN OF LOUIS XVI. AND FIRST EMPIRE. 2 vols.
- COURT OF TUILERIES. 2 vols.
- COURT OF FRANCE. 2 vols.

Of this gossipy and entertaining series of French Memoirs, published in London during the past twenty years, and printed from type only, all the earlier volumes are now "out of print" and "scarce."

Complete sets can only be picked up, at a high price, from dealers in rare books.

In view of this fact, and the present widespread interest in French history, no more opportune time can be chosen for issuing a new edition. The typographical errors of the original edition have been corrected, and a much needed Index which the English edition lacked has been prepared for each work.

A new font of type has been used in setting the volumes, and the utmost care will be given to the presswork.

The size of page and size of volume (crown octavo) has been decided upon after careful comparison with the best models, and it is the aim of the publishers to make as nearly as possible an ideal set of books. An English paper, smooth, without gloss, soft and flexible and pure in color, made at Dickinson's Croxley Mills, has been selected.

Each volume will be illustrated with eight photogravures, careful reproductions of celebrated engraved portraits, printed with the plate mark, and bound with gilt tops and uncut edges, in new English silk-ribbed cloth, with a striking original die stamped in gold on side and back.

Sold separately or in sets at $1.75 per volume.

DE LUXE EDITION.

A large-paper, octavo (size 6 x 8½ inches), Edition de Luxe, limited to three hundred and fifty numbered sets, will be issued on hand-made, deckle-edge paper.

The one hundred and twelve illustrations to this edition will be printed on Imperial Japan paper.

It will be bound in Bancroft white vellum cloth, with brilliant gold stamp on side and back, and each work will be boxed, two volumes in a box.

This limited edition will be sold only in sets at $3.50 per volume.

In addition to the above we have nearly ready the following books for SUMMER READING:

ON THE POINT, a Summer Idyl. By NATHAN HASKELL DOLE, author of "Not Angels Quite." With dainty half-tone illustrations as chapter headings. 1 vol., 16mo, cloth, ornamental side die, gilt top, $1.00.

A bright and clever little story of a Summer on the coast of Maine. Fresh, breezy, and readable to the last page.

A MAD MADONNA, AND OTHER STORIES. By L. CLARKSON WHITELOCK. With eight half-tone illustrations. 1 vol., 16mo, cloth, ornamental side die, gilt top, $1.00.

A half dozen remarkable psychological stories. Mr. Edmund C. Stedman writing of them says: "I have read these tales with singular interest. The 'Mad Madonna' and 'Ignoto' ought to be welcomed. They are really prose poems of a high order."

JUST PUBLISHED:

THE SHADOW OF A CRIME. A Cumbrian Romance. By HALL CAINE, author of "The Manxman," "The Deemster," etc. With twelve full-page illustrations in half-tone. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"This book is no ordinary novel; to treat it as such would be an injustice alike to the author and the public. . . . Mr. Caine has produced a work of art which will live in the memory of all those who can put themselves in the position of sympathy with deep feeling and highly wrought emotion."—Academy.

In a story of modern life and love is proposed a common-sense, practical solution of the labor question, not by legislation but by the mutual efforts of individuals. It suggests incidentally a readjustment of domestic economy that will preserve the sacredness of homes, but at the same time release women from their dull round of cooking, dusting, etc., and open up for every woman some useful activity suited to her own taste and capacity. It shows how the isolation and monotony of the farm life of to-day may be obviated, by bringing farm and city together, keeping the best features of each.

The story quoted is found in the 19th chapter of Bulwer-Lytton's "The pilgrims of the Rhine." It is told by the German student of Heidelberg, who, inspired by the sight of the old monasteries on the Rhine, outlines his plan for a great history of religions. c. 3+205 p. 1 il. nar. S. (Buckram ser.) cl., 75 c. [2122]

Letters passed between two men friends and a bright intelligent girl tell a love-story with a most pathetic ending. One of the writers settles in Ohio to quarry stone and improve the condition of his laborers; the other, after roaming around the world, becomes partner in a money-making concern. The girl calmly judges both, and chooses for her best development. The tragedy brings her to the home of the other lover. "Another story" deals with work in university settlements.

Follows the same line of thought as Dr. Horace Bushnell's "God in Christ," which in 1849 was considered heretical. The preacher asserts that much of the codes now recited by Christians are not held as really bearing the meaning of the words, and he advocates rewording beliefs and making them vital-working creeds in the present daily lives of their professors. He holds that the spiritual meaning of Christ's religion will always embrace all progress in thought and science and he believes in stripping off the husks of man-made dogmas.

The Publishers' Weekly.

FOUNDED BY F. LEYPOLDT.

JUNE 22, 1895.

The editor does not hold himself responsible for the views expressed in contributed articles or communications.

All matter, whether for the reading-matter columns or advertising pages, should reach this office not later than Wednesday noon, to insure insertion in the same week's issue.

Publishers are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, as it is of the utmost importance that the entries of books be made as promptly and as perfectly as possible. In many cases booksellers depend on the WEEKLY solely for their information. The Record of New Publications of THE PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is the material of "The American Catalogue" and so forms the basis of all trade bibliography in the United States.

"I hold every man a debtor to his profession, from the which, as men do of course seek to receive countenance and profit, so ought they of duty to endeavor themselves by way of amends to be a help and an ornament thereunto."—LORD BACON.

TITLES OF SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS WANTED.

THE office of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY is now well advanced in the preparation of the new volume of the "American Catalogue," covering the period July 1, 1890, to June 30, 1895. The basis of this Catalogue is primarily the "Weekly record of new publications" of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, which is annually transmuted into the "Annual American Catalogue," and, in that form, now furnishes the material for the five-yearly volume. Constant effort is made to make the record of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY and the annual volumes as comprehensive and complete as possible, but there is, nevertheless, a percentage of books issued each year not recorded, for lack of notification of their publication or because no information regarding them is supplied by their publishers when requested. Publishers of subscription books are chiefly derelict in this respect. There is no class of books of which it is so difficult to obtain full and timely record. In most cases knowledge of their issue is gained only from chance announcements or newspaper comment (which material is carefully gleaned within the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY office), and repeated inquiries fail to elicit satisfactory response; while often, when information is finally obtained, it is found that the books were published years previously, and thus belong outside the limits of the period covered by the "American Catalogue." It is the intention to include in the volume for 1890-95 as complete a record as is practicable of subscription books issued during the period covered by that volume. Requests for such information have been often made in connection with the record of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY; but such requests have heretofore appealed solely to bibliographical ardor for a response, and perhaps for that reason they have never brought forth especially satisfactory results. Those connected with the book and library callings, particularly booksellers and library assistants, and others acquainted with subscription books, are now asked to send to the "American Catalogue" titles of such books, published within the period July 1, 1890, to June 30, 1895, inclusive. Complete or adequate information regarding subscription books issued within that period and not recorded in the Annual American Catalogues will be paid for at the rate of five cents for each title. Payment will be made to the person whose satisfactory record of the book is first received at this office. This record should include author, publisher, date of publication, size, price, and any other information that can be given—the more the better. The only restrictions are that the book must have been published within the period July 1, 1890—June 30, 1895, and that it must not have been recorded in the Annual American Catalogues.

"Many a mickle makes a muckle," and there is no reason why an enterprising person, acquainted with the subscription-book trade or with the book trade generally, should not with the expenditure of some time and more patience clear in this way a sum that though small in items, would yet be decidedly "worth while."

Titles should be sent as early as possible (without waiting to get long lists) to the Editor of the American Catalogue, P. O. Box 943, New York City. If desired, slips will be furnished for the record.

"BOOKSELLERS' LEAGUE" AFLOAT.

BOOKSELLERS in New York and vicinity will bear in mind the first annual excursion of the Booksellers' League on June 29. The steamer Matteawan will leave the pier at foot of Twenty-first Street, North River, at 2 P.M., sharp, for a trip up the Hudson as far as West Point and return.

In addition to the trip the Entertainment Committee will provide an attractive programme in the form of music, singing, and recitations. The ship on the homeward trip will be decorated and illuminated in Japanese style. Among those expected to be present is Edward W. Townsend, the author of "Chimmie Fadden," who has kindly consented to read selections from the sayings of "Chimmie." Many of the members of the League will be accompanied by their families, and altogether the excursion is destined to be memorable in the brief history of the League and in the bookselling world of America.

A UNIVERSAL CATALOGUE OF LITERATURE, ART, ETC.

AMONG the many objects to be labored for at the Dresden meeting of L'Association Littéraire et Artistique Internationale (fully explained in our issue of April 20) is the foundation of a complete bibliography of the works of the entire world, in the shape of a systematic catalogue of all existing works of literature, art, science, music, painting, architecture, etc. The value of such a catalogue is patent to all thinking people. It would put at the disposition of workers in every land a source of knowledge of all works already existing, and would do away with much unneeded writing on subjects already fully treated.

Up to date the great libraries and museums have done but little to supplement one another and to bring clearly before the world their especial treasures. This separation is a great obstacle to the rapid spreading of ideas to the various intellectual centres. All interested in progress agree that it is to the advantage of all nations to establish intellectual communication, all have much to give and much to receive, and it is important for all the world to facilitate as far as possible this intellectual exchange. No individual government, no matter how well equipped in money, energy and knowledge, could accomplish the collection of this mass of documents, but by co-operation of all the governments such a work, although remaining one of almost immeasurable difficulty, might be brought within the limits of possibility.

The International Literary and Artistic Association is resolved to carry out this vast undertaking, being fully convinced that every enterprise of acknowledged benefit can be made practicable in time. The first draft of this enterprise was submitted during the Congresses held at Barcelona, Milan and Antwerp, and the subject will be brought in far better shape before the Congress of the Association at Dresden in September. The Association therefore makes a special appeal to authors, artists and scientists to be represented at the Congress and to give their moral support if not more effective aid, to the great work. It also calls upon them, through societies or individual representatives to present as many arguments for the undertaking as possible. Such communications should be addressed to M. Jules Lermina, Secretary, No. 17 Rue du Faubourg-Montmartre, Paris. A full account of all the work accomplished by this active Association founded by Victor Hugo appeared in 1889 at the time of the Paris Exhibition, published by the Bibliothèque Chacornac, 11 Quai St. Michel, Paris.

A PROPOSED CONSOLIDATION OF PAPER-MAKERS.

IT became known on the 27th inst. in Wall Street that some of the manufacturers of paper for newspaper use have been planning to form a combination with a big capital. Their representatives, according to the New York Tribune, "have been talking with Wall Street men with reference to financial plans. Some of those in the movement are reported to be the Manufacturers' Paper Company, represented by K. B. Fullerton; the Fall Mountain Paper Company, represented by a Mr. Russell; the Niagara Falls Paper Company, represented by a Mr. Norcross; the Rumford Falls Paper Company, and the Glenn Manufacturing Company. There are also understood to be other companies, fifteen or twenty in all, mostly situated in New England and New York, which would go in should the project come to a head. So far nothing definite has been settled. There has been talk of a capitalization of $20,000,000, with $10,000,000 in bonds. The combination, if formed, would probably be a big newspaper paper trust, and possibly, if its shares were listed on the Stock Exchange, might rival other big Industrials as a subject for active speculation."

LEWIS VAN ANTWERP.

LEWIS VAN ANTWERP, of whose death we gave notice in our last week's issue, and whose portrait we print in this issue by courtesy of the American Book Company, was born in New York City on January 1, 1821, and comes of old Knickerbocker stock, his family being prominent among the old Dutch settlers prior to 1690. Left an orphan at a very early age, he was brought up in his grandfather's house and was educated at Columbia and Amherst.

While still a very young man he went to Augusta, Ky., where he passed a number of summers, going South for the winters. He settled in Cincinnati in 1849, and in 1850 married Miss Maria F. Cleneay, daughter of Joseph Cleneay, Esq.

In 1851 he entered the office of Winthrop B. Smith & Co., becoming a junior partner in 1868, when the firm changed its name to Wilson, Hinkle & Co.

Mr. Van Antwerp became the head of the firm in 1877, when it was again reorganized under the name of Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co., and he continued to hold this responsible position until January 1, 1890, a few months prior to the formation of the American Book Company, a consolidation of prominent school-book publishing houses, including Van Antwerp, Bragg & Co.

Mr. Van Antwerp was of a quiet, retiring disposition, greatly preferring the pleasures of family life to the bustle of public affairs. It was only with the greatest difficulty that his friends induced, some years ago, him to accept the office of Mayor of Avondale.

He was a warm-hearted, open-handed man, but, as was natural with one of his disposition, his works of benevolence and charity were but little known even to his family, but his deeds of kindness and generosity to the poor and those in need of sympathy were without number.

COMMUNICATIONS.

A REMEDY FOR UNDERSELLING, ETC.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 14, 1895.

To the Editor of The Publishers' Weekly.

DEAR SIR: Regarding the subject of present demoralization of the book trade, we believe that the plan presented herewith will remedy to a large extent some of the evils, viz.: Let the publishers fix the selling price and compel purchasers by contract not to break prices for one year after publication. After that, opportunity can be secured to work off shop-worn copies and those which have not sold. We think that publishers should shorten discounts to 20 per cent., and then the public will feel that they are dealt fairly with. The publishers should compel jobbers also to sign an agreement to sell only to those booksellers who have signed a publisher's agreement. Have the publishers advertise a book, price $1.25, postage 10c. This would not discriminate against the bookseller. Let the one-year fixed price plan be applied to holiday editions. We do not see the weakness of the above plan, and we believe three leading publishers could put it through.

Thanking you for your attention to this, and hoping it may be available for use in a wide way for the benefit of all booksellers, we are, yours truly,

PRESTON &amp; ROUNDS.

COPYRIGHT MATTERS.

A CURIOSITY OF COPYRIGHT INFRINGEMENT.

IT is not often that a publisher infringes his own copyright, but this is what seems to be happening in one case in Canada just now. W. J. Gage, of Toronto, possesses from the English publishers of Ruskin the sole right to produce in that country that author's "Sesame and Lilies." This little book is much used as a text-book in schools and colleges. Mr. Gage's edition of it has therefore supplied the demand. As no other work of Ruskin is similarly affected, editions of his books issued in the United States are sold also. But when any such edition contained "Sesame and Lilies," that particular volume had to be withdrawn by the booksellers. Lately Mr. Gage has put a new edition of "Sesame and Lilies" on the market, but it is a New York book, and does not bear the name of his firm on the title-page. Technically, therefore, it infringes his Canadian edition, but as Mr. Gage supplies the trade himself, he can have no redress against them, and, as it is a sound axiom in law that a man can't take an action against himself, he is at perfect liberty, apparently, to keep on infringing his own copyright.

OBITUARY NOTES.

RICHARD GENEÉ, the German operetta writer and author of "Nanon" and other equally popular comic operas, died in Vienna June 17. He was born in Dantzig, February 7, 1823.

LATER reports confirm the death of Frederick Locker-Lampson on May 28, at his country seat, "Rowfant," Crawley, Sussex, Eng. He was born in 1821, his father being Edward Hawke Locker, F.R.S. In 1850 he married a daughter of the seventh Earl of Elgin, of marbles fame. In 1874 he married the daughter of Sir Curtis Lampson, whose name he added to his own. His daughter by his first wife married, first, Lionel Tennyson, a son of the Poet-Laureate, and, secondly, Augustine Birrell, M.P., the essayist. Mr. Locker was a versatile writer, and his vers de société and lyrics have spread his fame far. His best-known works, besides his "London Lyrics" (1857), are "Lyra Elegantiarum: a collection," and "Patchwork," partly original, partly selected. His library of works of the Elizabethan period inspired Andrew Lang's ballad to "The Rowfant Books," and gave its name to a club of book-lovers in Cleveland, O.

GEORGE BENTLEY, whose death on May 31 we briefly chronicled on the 8th inst., was born in 1828, and had been at the head of the great business, so honorably associated with the best traditions of publishing in England, since 1867, when his father resigned the management. He edited Temple Bar for a quarter of a century, continuing almost to the day of his death. Temple Bar, which grew out of Bentley's Miscellany, and which Mr. G. A. Sala edited for a time, is one of the most attractive of English magazines. Its biographical and literary articles are a distinct feature in periodical literature, and have a high reputation. The popularity and success of Temple Bar have been due to the editor himself, as well as to his contributors. The firm published the works of many celebrated writers, and several books that made something of a sensation on their appearance were accepted after Mr. Bentley had himself read the manuscripts. He had remarkable shrewdness in judging of the tastes of the public, especially in regard to fiction. He recognized the merits of Mrs. Henry Wood before the great body of readers had pronounced in her favor, and Miss Marie Corelli was also one of his discoveries. Among other novelists for whom Messrs. Bentley have published during recent years may be mentioned Miss Broughton, Mr. W. E. Norris, Mrs. Riddle, Miss Carey, Mrs. Alexander, Maarten Maartens, and Miss Florence Montgomery. In general literature the firm's publications are well known, but special mention may be made of memoirs, reminiscences, and biographies, by such writers as Mr. W. P. Frith, the late Sergeant Ballantine, and Mr. and Mrs. Bancroft.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

NOVELISTS seem gradually to be adopting a modified form of issuing their fiction serially, and elaborating it for publication in book form. For instance, people who have been reading "Hearts Insurgent," in Harper's Magazine, will hardly know it when it makes its appearance in book form. The story was considerably contracted for the purpose of serial publication. A story will thus have two lives at least.

EMILE ZOLA contemplates coming to America. The series which he began with "Lourdes" will be followed by "Rome." After that will come "Paris." Whether "Paris" will be followed by "London" and "London" by "New York," he cannot say yet. He has thought of it, he says; if he decides to carry out this plan he will make a very careful study of his field.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

J. S. OGILVIE COMPANY, N. Y., have just issued a book of bear stories, edited by Murat Halstead.

KING HUMBERT has conferred the Cross of Knight of the Crown of Italy on Mr. R. U. Johnson, secretary of the American League of International Copyright.

CORNER & FONTAINE, Austin, Tex., will publish shortly a translation of Tolstoi's "Master and Man," by Catherine A. Ludwig, niece of Vladimir I. Guerrier, professor of history in the University of Moscow, and Dr. Bruce Halsted.

THE DEUTSCHE VERLAGS ANSTALT, Stuttgart, Würtemberg, has just issued the first volume of a "Lexikon der Gesammten Technik und ihrer Hilfswissenschaften," edited by Prof. Otto Lueger. The work will be complete in about five large octavo volumes.

THE JENSON PRESS, Philadelphia, will publish early in the fall, "Book-Plates, an historical sketch," by Charles Dexter Allen, corresponding secretary for the U. S. of the Ex-Libris Society of London, to be issued in a handsome limited edition of three hundred copies. Sold only by subscription.

E. P. DUTTON & CO. will publish in October a volume of sermons by Phillips Brooks. It is called "Sermons for the Church Year." "The Rabbit Witch," by Katherine Pyle, is another of their coming books, and appears to be modelled on "Slovenly Peter"—in fact to be an American "Slovenly Peter."

"BACK NUMBER" BUDD is digging out of the ruins of his destroyed warehouse in Ravenswood, L. I., so much of his stock as has not been entirely destroyed by fire and water. He claims to have already recovered about 2,000,000 newspapers which he hopes to be able to use notwithstanding the fact that nearly all of them are slightly damaged around the edges.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO. have in preparation for publication in the fall a volume by John Fiske on Virginia and the sister colonies, forming a part of his history of the country; "Br'er Rabbit at Home," another instalment of the "Uncle Remus" stories, by Joel Chandler Harris; and "Gustavus Adolphus," another volume in the series of military biographies, by Col. T. A. Dodge.

LAMSON, WOLFFE & CO. have made arrangements with John Lane of the "Bodley Head" to publish "The Great Galeoto" and "Folly and Saintliness," two plays translated by Hannah Lynch from the Spanish of José Echegaray; and "The White Wampum," by Miss Pauline Johnson, an Indian Princess, who has been giving public readings in London recently with some success.

LAIRD & LEE have just put on the market a novelty that is attracting some attention. It is entitled "Lee's Puzzle," and represents the face of a combination lock of a safe. The Puzzle is, of course, to learn the combination that will open the safe. To the successful ones five hundred dollars in cash will be distributed. Puzzle complete, in a handsome box, with full instructions, retails for 25 cents. The person who mails the first correct solution between Sept. 2 and Sept. 14 is entitled to $250.

MACMILLAN & CO. are about to issue a volume of "Studies in Economics," by Dr. William Smart, author of "An Introduction to the Theory of Value"; a prose version of the plays of Æschylus in six small volumes prepared by Walter Headlam, of King's College, Cambridge; also the fourth volume of the novels of Ivan Turgéneff, entitled "Fathers and Children." "Smoke," in one volume, and "Virgin Soil," in two, will complete this series, after which they intend to issue, uniform with them, an English edition of Turgéneff's short stories.

The Critic will publish under the title of "Trilbyana," in a 56-page pamphlet, its review of "Trilby" and the many items of "Trilbyana" which have appeared in its columns, with portraits of du Maurier and Whistler, a picture of du Maurier's house, and a reproduction of his first contribution to Punch—a humorous drawing of himself and his former chum, and present dearest enemy, the American artist, Whistler, entering a photographer's studio together. There will be two editions, one on hand-made paper, with rubricated cover, limited to 250 copies, signed by the editors.

D. APPLETON & CO. announce for immediate publication "The Story of the Plants," by Grant Allen; "European and American Cuisine," by Gesine Lemcke; "A Street in Suburbia," by Edwin Pugh; "A Study in Prejudices," by George Paston; "The Mistress of Quest," by Adeline Sergeant; "The Canadian Guide-Book," complete in one volume; a new edition of Tracy's "Handbook of Sanitary Information for Householders"; and new editions of Appleton's "General Guide to the United States" "Dictionary of New York," "Handbook of Summer Resorts," and "Guide-Book to Alaska."

LEE & SHEPARD have in press a volume on Hawaii, by Julius A. Palmer, Jr., who has just returned from the islands where he went as correspondent for the New York Evening Post; "Two Years on the Alabama," by Lieut. Sinclair, who was for two years an officer on this famous Confederate cruiser; "German Gymnastics," a volume published under the supervision of the North American Gymnastic Union, which will treat especially of the system of gymnastics as taught by the various branches of the German Turn-verein in this country; and a history of the Hutchinson family, whose members were great factors in the anti-slavery agitation and whose songs did much to stir up the popular flame before the outbreak of the Civil War.

E. & J. B. YOUNG & CO. have in preparation a noteworthy book by W. St. Chad Boscawen entitled "The Bible and the Monuments—the primitive Hebrew records in the light of modern research." The author points out that in this work he has placed before his readers the Babylonian and Assyrian versions of those traditions which are found in the early chapters of Genesis, and such comparisons have been instituted as seemed to him to be within the range of fair criticism. His object has been to place before his readers those monuments and inscriptions which seem to bear upon the early traditions of the Hebrew people, in order that they may have before them documentary evidence which hitherto has only been accessible to specialists.

PICK-UPS.

IN a volume of "Transactions" recently printed by the Grolier Club, there are some amusing stories told by Mr. Frederick Keppel, and among them this of Matthew Arnold: "After his return to London from his first lecturing tour in this country he visited Mrs. Proctor . . . then eighty years old. . . . In giving Mr. Arnold a motherly cup of tea she asked him, "And what did they say about you in America?" "Well," said the literary autocrat, "they said I was conceited; and they said my clothes didn't fit me." "Well, now," said the old lady, "I think they were mistaken as to the clothes."

The Best Key to Educational Books.

THE
American Educational Catalogue
For 1895,

whose value to the trade is proved by the fact that it is now in its twenty-sixth year, and that upwards of

The page giving the key to publishers will not be given in imprint editions unless specially ordered.

This Catalogue is specially planned to be of service for circulation by retailers among schools and private buyers. The imprint edition possesses not only temporary value, but will serve its purpose during the whole year. No imprint edition of less than 100 copies can be supplied. Orders for editions should be sent to us at once.
